The Challenge

1. Post a Slice of Life story every day through the month of March.
2. Share the link to your slice on Two Writing Teachers every day during the month of March.
3. Comment on at least 3 other people's slices each day.

Posting

1. You do this on your own personal blog.

Share your link on Two Writing Teachers

1. Open both Two Writing Teachers (<http://twowritingteachers.wordpress.com>) and your blog.
2. On your blog –
 - a. Click on the title of the post you want to share.
 - b. In the address bar, you will see the unique URL for your post.
 - c. Copy this URL. It's long...get it all!
3. On Two Writing Teachers –
 - a. Click on the comments for the day's SOLSC post.
 - b. In the comment box leave a few words about your slice AND paste the link to your post.
 - c. Complete the information below the comment box.
 - d. Publish your comment.
4. Test your link –
 - a. See if you click on the link from Two Writing Teachers that it will go to the post on your blog.

Leaving comments for others

1. Check out some of the slices left before yours (or on the day before you...late night bloggers appreciate comments too!)
2. Click on the link.
3. Read the slice.
4. Complete the comment box on the bottom of the slice.

Grab the button!

1. Go: <http://twowritingteachers.wordpress.com/2012/02/11/slice-of-life-buttons-2/>
2. Right click on the button you want.
 - a. Save as (on the desktop)
 - b. Then upload it into your post on your blog

Other notes

1. When people leave a comment on your blog, typically if you click on their name, it will lead you to their blogs. You can leave them comments too.
2. Feel free to comment on your own post, joining the discussion in the comment feed.
